The story of Rob Hood

Once upon a time, there was hundreds of men women and children in poor neighborhood dying. They were being killed by police, and killing each other.

At this time the government could not stop the violence in the city, children playing in front of there homes being shot by stray bullets dying.

Gang took over these neighborhoods flooding them with drugs and alcohol, women on every corner selling their bodies for drugs while there children raise themselves or while they sit at home hungry without light or gas in there apartments because there parents are drug addicts or either dead, or are among the living dead on drugs and alcohol leaving there families for days strung out in the dark streets of Chicago. Among these neighborhood there was a boy raised by a woman, she named him Rob Hood, he never had a father so the streets was his roll model, this man stop attending school at a young age to help his mother, he worked everyday they finally made it out the projects into a neighborhood just as bad. Now the young man was determined to be someone for kids to look up to someone who would restore our neighborhoods and be a father to all kids a leader, his dreams was to give all children what he never had "Love," and his name was Rob Hood, he drove a brown Cadillac he would take from the rich and give to the poor.

He ended up allowing the streets, drugs and the prostitutes to draw him in after 20 years of working a job that he done only to earn money to give his mother and people who was deprived of fathers, his drug use lasted 10 months and he was arrested for a murder he did not commit.

After 16 years he was found to be innocent and release from prison along with 12 million dollars for wrongfully convicting him. He new his calling, now he began to clean up all neighborhood, save all children, he stop the useless Murders and drugs in all neighborhoods, he change the police department, he changed all the harsh laws for offenders after he was release. the poor neighborhood became rich the governor close 25 prisons there was no need for them.

all gang member became Doctor's Lawyers, preachers and the children were able to play in front of their home again, the city build more parks and jobs was a dime a dozen every homeless person had homes Bob hood had done it he made a significant difference in the world and everyone benefited from it.
